Merry Christmas!

Merry Christmas, friends! The time of the year with high spirits, kindness, and positivity. The time of the year when families gather from wherever they may be to become whole again. The visions of decorated trees and holidays lights, the smells of gingerbread, cinnamon, Christmas trees, and sounds of carolers singing our favorite holiday songs. The joy of Christmas.

But... not everyone has these delights during the holiday season, and that's what we'll be focusing on in this issue of Events & Company.

Angel trees spring up during the holidays where people are encouraged to pick an angel from a tree and make that person's Christmas. Many angels have children's names with the age of the child, their gender, clothing size, favorite toys, and especially their needs.

Be sure to help someone in need this holiday and use our helpful guide throughout this issue to the lyrics of The 12 Days of Christmas to learn how and where to help!

Do you know the meaning behind the 12 Days of Christmas? I'm sure everyone knows this cheery song with a list of funny gifts from "my true love" but there is quite a serious meaning to the lyrics.

Catholics in England during the period 1558 to 1829, when Parliament finally emancipated Catholics in England, were prohibited from any practice of their faith by law - private or public. "The 12 Days of Christmas" was written as one of the "catechism songs" to help young Catholics learn the tenets of their faith.

The song's gifts are hidden meanings to the teachings of the faith. The "true love" mentioned in the song doesn't refer to an earthly suitor, it refers to God Himself. The "me" who receives the presents refers to every baptized person.

The other symbols include the following:

- 1 Partridge in a Pear Tree = Jesus Christ
- 2 Turtle Doves = The Old and New Testaments
- 3 French Hens = the Theological Virtues: Faith, Hope, and Charity
- 4 Calling Birds = the Four Gospels and/or the Four Evangelists
- 5 Golden Rings = The first Five Books of the Old Testament, the "Pentateuch," which gives the history of man's fall from grace
- 6 Geese A-laying = the six days of creation
- 7 Swans A-swimming = the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit, the seven sacraments
- 8 Maids A-milking = the eight beatitudes
- 9 Ladies Dancing = the nine Fruits of the Holy Spirit
- 10 Lords A-leaping = the ten commandments
- 11 Pipers Piping = the eleven faithful apostles
- 12 Drummers Drumming = the twelve points of doctrine in the Apostle's Creed

May your Christmas be blessed!

“ On the first day of Christmas, a dear soul donated... a shoebox with lots of goodies ”

Adrian was just a small child when he was abandoned by his parents. He grew up in Ecuador thinking nobody loved him, and he encountered problems in school. His life was changed forever at age 12 when his aunt and uncle invited him to an Operation Christmas Child gift distribution at a local church. "There, I met Christ," Adrian said. "Now I know I'm not alone. God loves me and He loves me a lot. Thank you for the shoebox and the biggest gift of all, Jesus."

My name is Lida. I was born in St. Petersburg, Russia. I wanted to share how special these shoeboxes can be for someone, because I personally experienced this. The orphanage that I stayed at was sent shoeboxes at Christmas time. Usually for a normal Christmas at the orphanage all the children would receive candy. We were pleasantly surprised to find without candy a wrapped box, one for each of us. It consisted of toys and goodies for us to enjoy and other things greatly needed that the orphanage could not provide. Receiving the present and knowing that someone was thinking and praying for me specifically gave me so much happiness. God gives to some so that they can give to others. Thank you!

Give a Child in Need a Christmas with Operation Christmas Child

By Eliza Martinez

You likely know that there are children in need year-round, but it's particularly hard to see needy kids when the holidays roll around. It's a magical time of new clothes, toys, tasty food and a stocking stuffed full of goodies. However, that's not the case for kids everywhere. If you want to leave a mark on a child and make this holiday an unforgettable memory, consider getting involved with Operation Christmas Child.

It's as easy as stuffing a shoebox. The idea behind Operation Christmas Child is to distribute uniformly sized boxes packed with fun gifts as well as needed items. The boxes are then delivered to kids in need. It's an easy and inexpensive way to make sure a child somewhere gets to celebrate Christmas with gifts and fun. The boxes are often delivered to parochial schools and churches, but you can also use any cardboard or plastic shoebox.

Run by Samaritan's Purse, Operation Christmas Child has delivered over 100 million boxes to kids in more than 130 countries across the globe. Imagine living in poverty, but each year receiving a life-changing red and green box filled with necessities and toys. What a simple and heartfelt way to spread your blessings throughout the world.

Your first step is to decide whether you want to make a box for a boy or a girl. This will be clearly indicated on the box, so each child gets an appropriate box. You'll also mark the age category of the child you purchased items for. Then the fun begins! Now you get to fill the box with items that a child will open on the holidays.

It's important to be cautious regarding what you include since many of the boxes are shipped to countries at war or with strict religious rules. Avoid food, breakable items, toy weapons, medications, vitamins and aerosol cans. Other than that, you can stick in anything you think a child might like. Stuffed animals, crayons and coloring books, dolls, trucks, balls, musical instruments, stamps, writing pads with pencils, stickers and stamps with an inkpad are great ideas. You can also put in socks, t-shirts, sunglasses, hair accessories, a watch and a flashlight. Toothpaste, a new toothbrush, soap and a washcloth are also perfect for kids. It's also requested that you include a $7 donation to help cover the cost of shipping.

"The mission of Operation Christmas Child is to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to needy children around the world, and together with the local church worldwide, to share the Good News of Jesus Christ," says the organization's website.

You can't go wrong by getting involved with this wonderful charity to make sure kids everywhere learn the wonder of Christmas morning. If you'd like, host a packing party at your home and invite friends and family to come on over and pack a box with you. Ask each person to contribute some items and mix and match them to create the box of any child's dream. They won't forget it!

GIVE SHOES. GIVE LOVE. GIVE HOPE.

Soles for Souls

Soles4Souls is a global nonprofit institution dedicated to fighting the devastating impact and perpetuation of poverty. The organization advances its anti-poverty mission by collecting new and used shoes and clothes from individuals, schools, faith-based institutions, civic organizations and corporate partners, then distributing those shoes and clothes both via direct donations to people in need and by provisioning qualified micro-enterprise programs designed to create jobs in poor and disadvantaged communities.

Santa's Elves

started in 2010 when mom Deborah Sherman was trying to figure out how to teach her 4-year-old son Jack about the value of giving instead of receiving gifts at Christmas. She came up with the idea to have Jack choose, wrap and hand-deliver a gift to a child who needed a present in Denver. Once she told her friends about the idea, they joined in and the project became "Santa's Elves: Kids giving to kids."

In 2010, with the help of a lot of little elves, their parents and James Salinas at the Rude Rec Center, the project hand-delivered some 400 presents to children from children in Colorado's poorest neighborhood, Sun Valley, on Christmas Day.

Marines Toys for Tots, a 65 year charitable program run by the U.S. Marine Corps, provides happiness and hope to disadvantaged children during each Christmas holiday season. The toys and other gifts collected and distributed by the Marines offer these children recognition, confidence and a positive memory for a lifetime. It is such experiences that help children become responsible citizens and caring members of their community.

“On the fifth day of Christmas a dear soul donated... five healing trees...”

Healing Tree Ministries was founded in 2007 by Jim and Peggy Underwood of Parker, Colorado. This organization is a 501 (c) (3) nonprofit corporation that offers hope to people struggling during the Christmas season and “spreads hope, one tree at a time” by providing 32-inch decorated table top fiber optic Christmas Trees to individuals. These trees include scriptures of encouragement from the Bible, as well as a salvation message, and the history of the Christmas Tree. The intended recipients of the Healing Trees include people in VA hospitals, nursing homes, conventional hospitals or hospices. Anyone that needs some extra encouragement, regardless of the circumstance, should have a Healing Tree this Christmas season.

After arriving towards the end of one of the Saturday decorating sessions, Jim informed me that 455 trees had been decorated that day, making a grand total of 5,000 Christmas trees that have been decorated by Healing Trees Ministries for the holidays! Amazing work Healing Tree Ministries!

“Then they cried to the Lord in their trouble, and he saved them from their distress; he sent out his word and healed them, and delivered them from destruction.” Psalm 107: 19-20

From the Healing Tree Ministries website, here are a few stories of healing that the donated trees brought patients:

- A pregnant woman in the hospital who was confined to bed rest in order to keep her unborn child from a premature delivery shared that the “Healing Tree” brought encouragement to her as well as the hospital staff and doctors. She gave birth to a beautiful healthy child.
- A family at the Ronald McDonald House was extremely thankful for some Christmas away from home. They shared, “We were surprised to have our own little Christmas Tree. When the lights went out in our room, we enjoyed the peace and tranquility of the lights.”
- An 87 year old legally blind woman refused to turn off her Healing Tree throughout the entire Christmas season because she could see the colors and it warmed her heart.

Denver Museum of Nature and Science

Friday, November 8th, the Denver Museum of Nature and Science opened its doors to guest to travel across the universe in the 10th anniversary of the Museum's award-winning exhibition, Space Odyssey. The gala is the museum's premier fundraiser for scholarships, onsite classes, labs, tours, and teacher professional development. Guests were given the opportunity to wander the exhibits and dine in one of the museum exhibits set up for dinner.

Upon sitting in the Australia exhibit with animals watching as we dined on mushroom-crusted beef tenderloin and seared shrimp accompanied by green chili sweet potato gratin, Event Chair, John Freyer, welcomed all explaining the exhibits were created with the help of the previous year's donations.

After dinner, the excitement was taken to the first floor where the After Dark Soiree began at 9:00pm with entertainment by The Fab Four, a Beatles Tribute Band.

Giving back Christmas

Denver Children's Home makes holiday wishes come true for those who need it most

BY DAVE REVERE

Not everyone feels cheery about Christmas. Many of us associate the season with painful or traumatic memories. The folks at the Denver Children's Home consider it a shame that a celebration of giving and togetherness should be stolen from so many. They're giving you an opportunity to do something about it this holiday season.

DCH, Colorado's oldest nonprofit, works with mental health issues and trauma for children ages 10 to 18. For many of the 65 kids currently at the home, the holidays bring only vivid memories of loss, abandonment and abuse. The Adopt a Child and Adopt a Family holiday programs invite the Denver community to fulfill Christmas wishes and remind these children they are not alone.

"We do everything that we can as an organization to make the holidays as special as possible for our kids, but some don't even have anything to compare it to," says Lindsay Leuthold, DCH Development Director. "Even worse than this are our children who have been taken from their homes for one reason or another. These kids experience even more stress and anxiety because they have spent the holidays in a 'forever' home but are not there this holiday season."

For the Adopt a Child program, each child fills out a wish list of five items (no more than $30 an item) which they rank in order of desire. The lists are sent to donors who purchase and return the items to DCH by Dec. 13. The gifts are wrapped and presented to the children on Christmas morning.

"We have a few 'true' orphans in our care," says Leuthold. "These children have never known what a family holiday looks or feels like. They've never woken up in a loving home on Christmas morning to find presents under the tree. We do everything in our power to remind our kids how special they are by letting the community truly embrace them and shine some extra happiness into their hearts during the holidays."

The idea works the same for the Adopt a Family program which serves families receiving services from the home. Each family member gets three wishes, and donors provide all the items. Nearly all the home's children come from families whose household income falls below the poverty line, so this can mean the difference between presents or no presents.

"I have witnessed parents cry when receiving their holiday gifts," says Leuthold. "This is not just because they are receiving gifts for themselves, but because their children are receiving gifts that they would not have been able to provide."

For those of us who struggle to get into the holiday spirit, DCH invites us to reclaim Christmas for ourselves as well. It's a chance reach out to children in our community and believe in something bigger than our own problems.

"Our kids are incredibly resilient and have been through unspeakable situations that no one should ever have to encounter, but they are here," says Leuthold. "...all they need is someone to believe in them and support them through the process. A contribution to DCH truly does change a life because it allows our kids to regain an understanding of their self-worth so they can eventually leave us and do great things."

The remarkable Madame Clicquot (1777-1866) is considered one of the first business-women of the modern era. Widowed in 1805 at the age of 27, Madame Veuve Clicquot (born Ponsardin) defied every convention of the day to take the helm of her late husband's small Champagne House. The Southwest Rink is located in Skyline Park next to the historic Daniels and Fisher Clock tower and near the intersection of 16th and Arapahoe streets. Skating is free to the public with the option to bring skates or rent a pair for just $2.

“The opening of the Southwest Rink at Skyline Park during Thanksgiving is quickly becoming a Denver tradition and a favorite event of mine to kick off the holiday season,” said Denver Mayor Michael B. Hancock. “The Denver Spirit is showcased in the collaboration among Southwest Airlines, the Downtown Denver Partnership and Denver Parks and Recreation that provides such a fun, inexpensive winter activity for friends and families alike in Downtown Denver.”

Last year, the Southwest Rink at Skyline Park welcomed more than 42,000 skaters—more than 11,000 people over the inaugural season. The Rink also saw eight marriage proposals, 24 broomball teams, 12 occasions of live music, and 2,728 fun giveaways for different events. An evening at the Wings Over the Rockies Air and Space Museum is no doubt one that will be remembered as was the Spreading Wings Gala on November 16th honoring astronaut Buzz Aldrin and world-renowned astrophysicist Dr. Neil deGrasse Tyson. Amelia Earhart was the hostess and emcee welcoming over 650 guests, including special guests Congressman Mike Coffman and retired Colonel Greg Johnson, executive director of the Center for the Advancement of Science in Space (CASIS).

Honoree Buzz Aldrin was unable to attend due to a recent illness and being advised not to travel. The evening included a video tribute to Buzz Aldrin along with a video tribute to Colorado astronaut Scott Carpenter. Space Foundation CEO Elliot Pulham led a discussion with Dr. Tyson via Skype as he responded to questions from the audience. He entertained guests with lively and engaging responses to questions about the critical issues in space travel and study—using illustrations from Greek mythology and even the television series, “Family Guy.”

All proceeds from the Spreading Wings Gala benefitted Wings Over the Rockies and its Spreading Wings youth education programs. Thanks to the sponsors: United Launch Alliance, Lockheed Martin, Information Handling Services, Ball Aerospace & Technologies, AECOM and Arta Tequila.

Project C.U.R.E. provides medical facilities with tools required to meet the rigorous demands of a growing, low-income populations dependent on government health programs.
